Ike Says He Likes General de Gaulle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower said today he likes Gen. Charles De Gaulle, the military leader who appears headed for control of the French government.

The President recalled at his news conference that he had had a friendly association with De Gaulle in the past. He said he was one of those who like the French general.

THE PRESIDENT flatly refused, however, to attempt any analysis of what effect De Gaulle's likely rise to power in France would have on French relations with the United States and other western powers.

Eisenhower opened his weekly news conference with a statement that crises still plague France and Lebanon. Therefore, he said, it was inadvisable for him to discuss either topic, and he told reporters not to ask him to.

IN OTHER FOREIGN news conference developments, the President:

County Planners Oppose Freeway for Highway 111

The County Planning Commission today went on record as being, opposed to development of a freeway route along the present alignment of Highway 111, from Palm Springs to Indio.

Answering "inferences that the commission is in favor of the freeway route," commissioners passed a three-point resolution stating their position on the matter, reported Commissioner L. C. Lewis, of Cathedral City.

THE COMMISSION resolution was approved as members of the Coachella Valley Advisory Planning Committee prepared to advance on the State Highway Commission to seek a four-lane, undivided highway for the scenic route.

The resolution states:

CVAPC Backs Smog Warning

Chamber of Commerce Manager Jimmy Cooper issued a new "smog warning" this week.

Cooper warned Coachella Valley Advisory Planning Committee members that proposed county air pollution control regulations are under attack from a "strong, well-financed industrial group."

THE PALM SPRINGS chamber official asked CVAPC members to support enactment of regulations designed to enforce smog control laws.

Only strict regulations, Cooper cautioned, will keep the irritating "haze" from filtering into the desert area.

"I strongly suspect there is a tinge of smog in the haze that is currently filtering through the Pass," Cooper remarked.

COOPER CLAIMED that the "industrial group" will have organized opposition at work when

The winner, to be selected on the basis of poise, personality, and beauty of face and figure, will go on to possible fame and fortune as the city's representative to the Miss California Pageant in Anaheim, and if winner there on to the Miss United States and Miss Universe spectacle at Long Beach in July.

AN EVEN DOZEN beauties are expected to compete for the top beauty honor this city can bestow, and judges who will select the winner include Pat Powers, daughter and aide to John Robert Powers, America's leading modeling school head; Chuck Walters, Metro-Goldwyn Mayer director; Andre Duval, assistant to John Powers, who will open a Powers school in Palm Springs next fall; Milt Lewis, top talent scout for Paramount Pictures; and Perc Westmore, head of Warner Bros. makeup department and cosmetic king of Hollywood.

Alternate judges will be singing star Ginny Simms and courtiere Bess Bender.

MISS PALM SPRINGS Pageant will be produced this year by Little Theater director Martin Beck, assisted by Bill Milner, and will combine with the beauty contest the regular Chi Chi Starlite Room show which stars singer Bobby Breen, comedian Arle Johnson, and musical comedy favorites Stormy House and Frank Still.

The Miss Palm Springs Contest is co-sponsored by the Chi Chi Restaurant and The Daily Desert Sun.

New Moon Fails to Go Into Orbit

Reaches Height, But Off-Angle Causes Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—The Navy reported early today that the full-scale satellite launched Tuesday night with the Vanguard rocket shot 2,000 miles into space but at an off-angle which caused it to plunge back to earth and burn.

It was the second consecutive failure of the Vanguard to blast a fully instrumented 20-inch satellite into orbit, the satellite President Eisenhower talked about in 1955 when he first announced there on to the Miss United States and Miss Universe spectacle at Long Beach in July.

THE VANGUARD was fired at 8:46 p.m. p.d.t. It pierced a puff of clouds and in about two minutes was no longer visible.

At first it appeared the launching was successful and that the satellite would join in space the 6.4-inch Vanguard test moon put into orbit last March 17, the two Explorers and gigantic Sputnik III, which weighs 1 1/2 tons.

DR. JOHN P. HAGEN, director of the Vanguard Project who came to this launching base to observe the event, said the 72-foot rocket "appeared to function well through the firing of all three stages but still did not result in an orbit."

In Washington, Dr. Richard W. Porter, chairman of the IGY satellite program, issued an identical statement to newsmen who had kept a vigil with him.

Porter said another Vanguard would be fired next month.

ACCORDING to initial calculations the satellite reached "a peak altitude of about 2,000 statute miles at its zenith and fell back to earth," Hagen said.

On April 28 the Vanguard was launched for the first time with the fully instrumented satellite in its nose, but it, too, failed to go into orbit because of failure of the third stage to ignite. The Vanguard on March 17, however, put a 6.4-inch test satellite into the highest orbit so far achieved by this country or Russia.

THE PROGRAM, scheduled for 1 p.m., features presentation of trophy awards to Safety Patrol captains by Police Chief August Kettmann. Trophies are donated by the Police Association, the Palm Springs Safety Council and the Curtis-Kieley Insurance Agency.

Responding to the recent public clamor by local business leaders for adequate convention facilities in Palm Springs, the city's famed Chi Chi is making its tremendous seating capacity and spacious stage available to convention groups.

In making this announcement, Chi Chi Owner Irwin Schuman and the night club's newly appointed manager, Ernie Glaser, stated that the Chi Chi would retain its policy of presenting stage shows starring the nation's top entertainers.

Ike Believes Recession Has Largely Spent Its Force

WASHINGTON (UPI)— President Eisenhower said today he believes the recession has largely spent its force.

But he cautioned against any optimism that a healthy economic upturn would occur in the near future.

He told a news conference that some of the economic indices point to an upturn. But he said one swallow does not make a summer.

SOME PARTS OF the national economy, such as the auto and other durable goods industries, still are not doing too well, he said.

On the whole, he said, the nation is weathering the recession well.

The President mostly was in a serious and calm mood. But there were several chuckles, including one when a reporter identified himself as representing United Press International.

AS TO HIS DECISION against a tax cut, he said that a question in which a tax reduction was identified as an anti-recession measure appeared to be loaded. He said he was not so sure that it would have an anti-recession effect.

The President said he and his economic aides had tax reforms and reductions under constant study. But as of now, he said, they do not believe large tax cuts are justified in the light of increased federal spending.

EISENHOWER EXPRESSED hope, however, that Congress will approve the minor tax reforms and reductions he has recommended for relief of small business.

He said government policy is aimed at a sound dollar and a stable cost of living. He added, however, he does not know what the government can do about rising prices other than combat them with its fiscal policies.

Two Parties Support Him For Premier

Final Decision Expected to Be Reached Tonight

PARIS (UPI) — President Rene Coty today summoned Gen. Charles de Gaulle to Paris—possibly to take over leadership of France.

Informed sources said Coty had won agreement from the Catholic Popular Republicans and Independents conservatives for De Gaulle to become premier. Together, the two parties control 175 votes in the 505-member National Assembly.

THE GENERAL headed at once for Paris from his home at Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises, 150 miles away.

De Gaulle's apparent moment of destiny arrived just as an estimated 100,000 leftists and moderates marched across Paris protesting his rise toward power.

It would take De Gaulle's chauffeur about two hours to make the trip. It would probably be several hours after that before an anxious France would know if De Gaulle's time had arrived.

POLICE TOOK elaborate precautions at Colombey to keep newsmen from trailing De Gaulle. Roads were blocked for 15 minutes.

For the first time, an escort car from France's FBI, the Surete General, accompanied De Gaulle.

At that very moment tens of thousands of anti-De Gaulle demonstrators surged into the Place de la Bastille where the French revolution of 1789 erupted. Former Premier Pierre Mendes-France, head of the Radical moderate party, was among them.

"FASCISM SHALL not pass," the crowd chanted in a rolling crescendo that drowned out rush-hour traffic. "Long live the Republic."

Coty was acting with all possible haste.

Earlier in the afternoon he conferred for two hours with leaders of three of France's middle-line parties.

Informed sources said the call to De Gaulle was issued after the Catholic Popular Republicans (MRP) and independents had assented to asking De Gaulle to form a government.

THE SOCIALISTS, who have opposed him energetically up to now, were said to have delayed their decision pending consultations with their parliamentary group this evening. The Socialists have 100 votes.

Coty was said to have appealed to all three parties to accept De Gaulle before the nation is plunged into chaos and possible bloodshed.

Coty, striving desperately to find an escape from the threat of a military dictatorship or a communist grab for power, began his crucial conferences at 4 a.m.

LATE MILLIONAIRE LEAVES 8 TONS OF SILVER DOLLARS

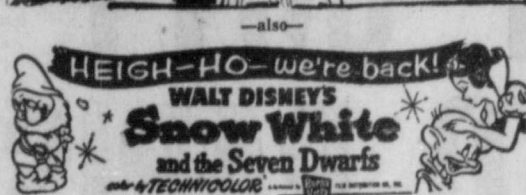

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—Eight tons of silver dollars have been found in a basement cache of a late millionaire who liked to play polo in a radio-equipped Cadillac.

The cache belonged to James M. (Silver Dollar) Jim West, who died Dec. 15. Its exact value was not revealed, but it was believed to be around $270,000. West, who liked to hand out silver dollars to friends and acquaintances, spent most of his spare time riding around with law enforcement officers. He maintained a fleet of radio-equipped Cadillacs in which he patrolled Houston streets at night.

Advertising Executive Tells of the Great Goof-Off Age; Says Selling Is Needed to Get Nation Back from Recession

By ELMER C. WALKER
UPI Financial Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — If you walk over to Madison Avenue, which is to advertising what Wall Street is to stocks and bonds, you'll hear talk of the great era of the goof-off, the age of the half done job.

And you'll hear men and women talking about the thrill the nation has to rediscover in work well done—selling to get the nation back from the recession. THIS GOOF OFF stuff all started in Washington the other day when Charles H. Brower, president of the advertising agency of Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn, made a speech before the 23rd convention of the National Sales Executives. Brower had stiff news competition with that speech what with the President and Vice President talking of things economic before 2,000 business executives, a big American Iron & Steel Institute meeting and a jet ramming an airliner.

NOW THE SPEECH is getting around and even Wall Street is quoting Brower who likens selling to the third stage of a rocket—the one that puts it into orbit. The other two are manufacturing and distribution. The figurative rocket, Brower says, just sits on its pad and whimpers. The advertising executive had things to say about an apparent lack of desire in the American public. "When a car becomes nothing more than transportation, when new clothes become nothing more than a protection against weather and immodesty, when a house is only a shelter — when the thrill is gone out of buying and pride fades out of ownership — we are headed for something worse than depression. We are headed for a whole new kind of economy that none of us is going to enjoy."

He finds the answer anything but simple and notes that mediocrity of salesmanship is only part of our national pattern willing to settle for something less than the best. "FOR THIS IN America," he says, "is the high tide of mediocrity, the great era of the goof-off, the age of the half done job. The land from coast to coast has been enjoying a stampede away from responsibility. It is populated with laundry men who won't iron shirts, with waiters who won't serve, with carpenters who will come around someday maybe, with executives whose mind is on the golf course, with teachers who demand a single salary schedule so that achievement cannot be rewarded, nor poor work punished, with students who take cinch courses because the hard ones make them think."

A Great Leader for a Great State . . .
Regardless of party labels, almost anyone hearing or reading the above slogan in connection with the California gubernatorial campaign will quickly recognize that there is only one candidate for that high office of sufficiently outstanding political stature, experience and long proven public leadership who can be truthfully so described.

That, of course, is Senator William F. Knowland who is now offering to dedicate himself to serving the people of California as their Governor.

Having been repeatedly elected to State and National office by overwhelming majorities by the voters of California, Senator Knowland's decision to seek the governorship at this particular time is most fortuitous.

No one is more thoroughly aware of the increasingly difficult and important problems which must be met and successfully solved by our State government within the next several years if California is to continue to grow and prosper as it so well deserves.

In fact, it is because of this steady and rapid growth that such extremely vital and pressing problems are multiplying so rapidly.

With California due to become the most populous State in the union within a few years, the overcrowding of schools, colleges and State institutions of all kinds, the overloading of demands on State bureaus, departments and services, the urgent need for water conservation with proper utilization through a statewide distribution system, the overall necessity for sound economic and financial planning at the top State level . . . all depend upon a Governor of unquestioned ability, integrity and outstanding leadership.

As a former member of the State legislature Senator Knowland is completely versed in every step of State government. And as United States Senator he has the added advantage of bringing to State office an experience and background in Federal-State affairs possessed by no other candidate.

That such a great leader is willing to serve our great State as Governor in this crucially important era of promising new growth and achievement is indeed fortunate for all of California.

Now is the time when we need just such a man to unite the voters of both political parties in a sound, practical progressive and higher plane of State prosperity and splendid new achievements.

Investigate Without Fear or Favor

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Some years ago a Kentucky Derby winner arrived in Baltimore for the Preakness Stakes, and the horse's own trainer sent for the track veterinarian and demanded a saliva test. Why?

"Because," said the trainer "my horse has a cold and I have administered some cough medicine. But if he wins this race tomorrow and is examined afterwards, somebody might say that he was doped."

WELL, I'M SORRY that Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, didn't take the same advance precautions. The cases aren't exactly alike, but they are similar. If Director Dulles had, at some time in the past, insisted that his agency be "vetted," the CIA would not now be under suspicion since Vice President Nixon's trip to South America.

Indeed, it was not even necessary that Mr. Dulles ask for a test. All he had to do was to submit gracefully to one. Senator Mike Mansfield, surely no witch - hunting has repeatedly, in 1954-55, offered bills to form a Joint Committee on Intelligence for overall surveillance of CIA.

NEITHER MANSFIELD nor the several other interested members of Congress have been opposed to the purpose of CIA. They have been concerned entirely with the CIA's good name which, they feared, would come to harm because of secrecy.

This has happened. Congressional efforts to keep tabs on CIA, just as a Joint Committee does on the Atomic Energy Commission, were blocked. Today this agency, which gathers information about our national enemies, gets its funds from hidden sources in the Defense, State and White House appropriations. How much? Nobody knows. How spent? Nobody can say. And since there is little or no reporting, there are rumors, among them being:

THAT DIRECTOR Dulles warned the Administration not to send Mr. Nixon to South America. Mr. Dulles was over-riden by someone close to the President.

That CIA, now being questioned by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has an established immunity which permits its spokesmen in the national interest to tell direct lies to Congressional investigators. If this be true, as I believe, the Senators can never be sure they have the truth.

That CIA is spending as much as $1.5 billion a year on an inept and complicated bureaucracy. That CIA is indulging itself in plots which include the overthrow of friendly governments and assassination of their leaders for reasons of double deceit and multiple intrigue.

THERE IS ONLY one way to alter this intolerable situation, to clear some good names or to expose some villains of the darkest hue. We must investigate the strange business of Mr. Nixon's mobbing in South America.

The probe will be incomplete until a Congressional chairman can state whether or not; CIA Director Dulles did warn against the Nixon visit. Somebody in the Administration decided to risk the Vice President's life and the nation's dignity. The CIA has become inefficient, disloyal or what?

THE FOREIGN Relations Committee is the right group to handle a continuing round - the-world study of why our foreign policy has failed us. South America, of course, is included. But the best veterinarian in town for testing Federal agencies is usually some Appropriations subcommittee from the House or Senate. If CIA has been misbehaving, the testimony will eventually appear in its spending

DEAR ABBY: I had a coffee table in my house and my sister-in-law admired it and admired it and I finally took the hint and gave it to her. Then she turned around and SOLD it to her sister. I don't care about the few dollars, but I think this was a cheap trick. I want to buy it back from her sister, but my husband says to forget the whole thing. Should I?

DEAR BOILING: Your sister-in-law used extremely poor judgment. If I were you I would forget it and charge it to experience.

DEAR ABBY: The man who thinks he gives his teen-agered son an allowance that is "MORE THAN PLENTY" sounds just like my father. Some fathers forget that times have changed

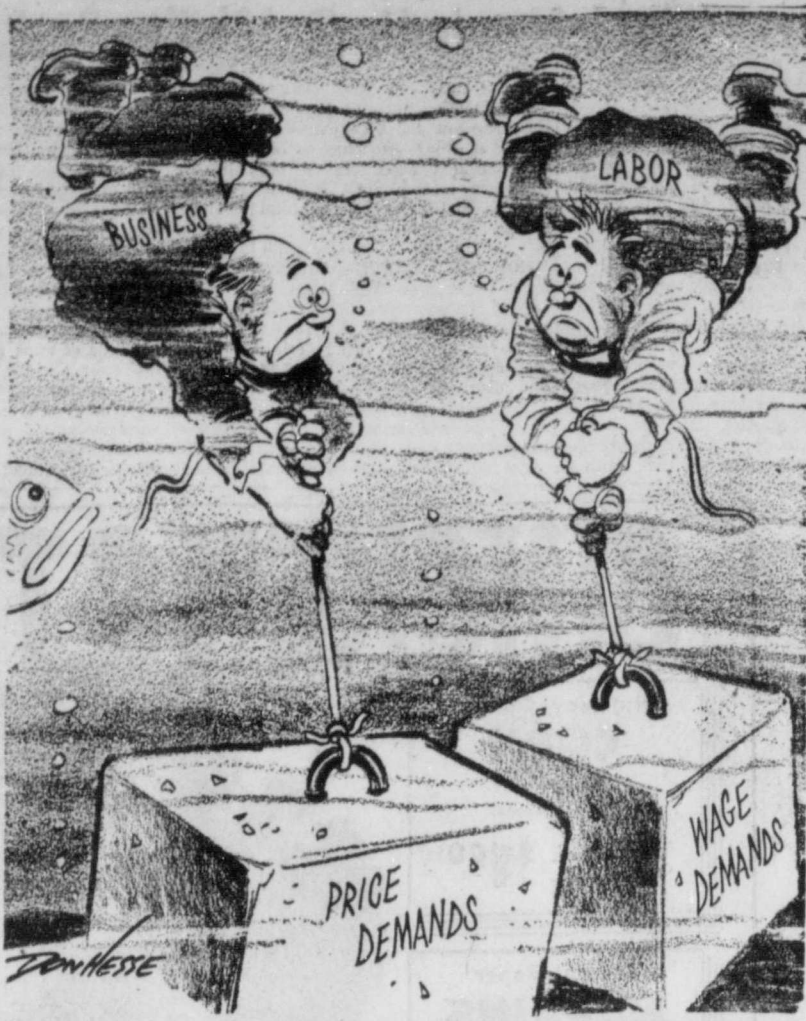

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a young woman who works for my husband. She is 26 years old and has already been through two husbands. She drives her own car all right, but my husband has to follow her home in his car after work to be sure she gets home safely. She invites him in for a cup of tea the has ulcers so I don't have to worry about it being anything else! afterwards. Sometimes it is seven-thirty before he gets home for dinner. Do I have to put up with this?

DEAR PATIENT: You don't have to. So why do you?

CONFIDENTIAL TO CONCERNED GRANNY: A watched pot never boils . . . but a "watched relative does" . . . Your "little boy" is 36 and is no longer your problem.

Returnees can hardly believe their eyes when they see Palm Springs and its present size.

Take the case of Harry L. Lewis, Beverly Hills investor. He was in town last week, the first time in 20 years. And what he saw had him talking to himself.

LEWIS FIRST CAME to the Palm Springs area in 1926. He bought the Wonder Date Palms. Didn't have many close neighbors then.

You ought to see it now. Wonder Palms Hotel, Tamarisk Country Club, beautiful homes all around.

Built what he says was the first swimming pool in this area. That was in 1926.

Now there are more swimming pools here per capita than oranges in Orange County.

Well, almost. Anyway, it's a good simile.

HE PUBLISHED a boxing magazine called "The Referee" in those days. As a result many of the name figures of the ring world were his guests.

Jack Dempsey, Mickey Walker and a flock of others.

Another Walker was his guest, Jimmy. Then mayor of New York.

Jimmy Walker came here to get away from the furore of an investigation of New York municipal affairs.

HE WAS MET at the Southern Pacific depot by a gang of roo'bin' tootin' Palm Springs cowboys who brought him into town in a stage coach.

The villagers were attired in typical abbreviated Palm Springs attire. Mayor Walker in his usual impeccable style. It didn't take him long to acquire our ways.

BEFORE LONG he was right in the middle of Palm Springs' customs. Pitched baseball for a team called "The School Kids."

His opposing pitcher was Freddie Watson, twirling for the "Business Men."

Watson remembers that the School Kids won by a big score.

LEWIS RECALLS a rodeo held in the 20s. It was among the first of such events held here.

He tried to remember the name of the hotel where he stayed before going to Wonder Date Palms. Thought it was called "The Desert Rose."

Asked several old-timers about the name. They said there was a "Rose in the name but not Desert Rose."

It afterwards was the La Palma.

LEWIS LEFT HERE in 1934. Looking around at the town he used to know and studying the present values last week, he joined that great club of early residents who went away:

"If I'd a . . . He said it'll be a heck of a lot less than 20 years between visits hereafter.

OF COURSE, you are probably weary of the many variations on that "have tax - will travel" theme. But here's one more:

A Los Angeles paving firm advertises:

"Have trucks - will gravel."

Mimi Lau was out to meet us when we landed at the airport at Hong Kong. Mimi works for a Chinese newspaper. She is a mine of mysterious information.

"I never find out just what information. Mimi breaks it off just at the punch line and starts on something else."

She was wearing a blue-figured Cheong Sam, the Chinese high collar and slit-up-the-side dress.

"I GET IMPORTANT information for you," said Mimi. "So many informations you cannot write it all."

"Like what, Mimi?" "I tell you later," said Mimi. "Most of my information very dangerous. Do you know I am writing a book? I call it, 'They Call Me a Dangerous Girl.'"

MIMI SAID HONG KONG was full of smugglers. Likewise full of Communists. Also a sprinkling of spies. Also a character called "The Yellow Ox."

"This information is so dangerous, I cannot talk about it." "Why not, Mimi?" "Gangsteris," said Mimi. "Great!"

"GOLD SMUGGLERS," said Mimi. "Narcotics. Oh, I get plenty information for you." "Speak up, girl, I must hit the typewriter today."

"Later," said Mimi Lau. "I take you maybe a year to get all this informations just right."

HONG KONG IS the world's greatest gossip town. Chinese love gossip like a cat loves fish. With 3 million people crowded into the small territory, we all live in a fish bowl.

Everybody is willing to give with a cloak-and-dagger story. In addition they will advise you what tailor makes the best cloaks. And where to get the best price on the dagger.

HONG KONG IS a tailor's town. One of the greatest cloak-and-dagger stories is the battle for tailoring business.

When the big cruise ships come in, the runners for the tailors swarm out with promises of 24-hour suits at incredibly low prices. Hong Kong is a duty-free port. British woolsens, worsteds and flannels come in at low prices.

EARL WILSON: Old Neighborhood Has Changed

NEW YORK—I went back to another one of my old home towns the other day—not Rockford, O. . . . but Greenwich Village.

You see, some literary people have been making cracks about my old neighborhood, Bleeker St.

An ex-boxer, Vincent L. Gigante, who is known as "The Chin" because he so frequently leads with it, is charged with nicking Frank Costello in the noggin with a bullet. Columnist Murray Kempton referred to "The Chin" as being "the Bleeker St. sidewalk type."

Hold on there, Murray. I'm a Bleeker St. boy myself. The B.W. and I had our first apartment at 134 Bleeker, in the very building where Gigante lives.

The B.W. was a secretary then and I'll never forget the morning she phoned to tell me of her $2 raise. The year before—May 26, 1934—I'd arrived here to be a N.Y. newspaperman.

(One year from now it'll be 25 years and you bosses better be gettin' up that gold fountain pen.) On a Christmas day, my B.W.'s father died and naturally we were rather broke. Those wonderful Bleeker St. neighbors rallied to us.

A fat Polish barkeeper, John Scheib, long dead, and the friendly Glibertist next door, were kind and helpful.

When I went back the other day, John Scheib's bar had been torn down to make way for a fancy new Washington Sq. Village. "Sixty-eight Washington Sq. S." where the B.W. and I met, has been flattened, too. I remember the day that Eileen McKenney took me room-hunting and I found the place . . . Eileen McKenney, sister of author Ruth McKenney; the original "My Sister Eileen."

Eileen was killed in an auto crash the night before the B.W. show named for her opened. She might have become one of the great personalities of her time.

But 134 Bleeker still stands—and I thought it was nice that in view of my fame as a columnist, there should now be a plaque there. I read it carefully.

The inscription reads: "This building marked for demolition." I looked for familiar faces. Once came a stationer who'd remembered I'd had an office there in an empty room where I wrote and the B.W. painted after work. "I thought it was next door," I said.

"Oh, no, it's here," he said. "I still have one of the empty beer cases you set your typewriter on. You sat on another empty beer case, and I have that, too."

"Ah, yes," I sighed tenderly, "now it all comes back." "You also left—But I didn't keep those . . ."

"Yes, yes!" I said. "What?" "Several empty beer bottles."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . Robt. Christenberry, ex-boxing commissioner, will be NYC's postmaster . . . Patti Page decided against surgery—she'll keep her golden tonsils . . . Joe E. Lewis' wire to Georgia Gibbs, opening at the Copa: "I'm betting on you—first time I picked a winner" . . . Singer Eileen Barton and agent Vic Jarmel cancelled divorce plans, are dating. (Vic says, "I'm confused, too") . . . Jesse Buchanan, a hostess in a local restaurant, gets her big break in the off-B'way play, "Sisterhood."

Lou Walters' new Cafe de Paris is one of the handsomest night clubs ever opened in N.Y., and Betty Hutton gave it a memorable premiere. Heading the glittering two-hour revue, Betty sings, dances and mugs winningly. She mentions that Jane Mansfield is going very far: "In fact, it looks like she's halfway there already."

A guest brought his motorcycle right up to Alfred Hitchcock's 29th floor party for "Vertigo" in an unfinished skyscraper . . . Tony Curtis wants to film the Russ Columbo bio, but Johnny Desmond—who owns the rights—plans to star in it himself . . . Several celebrities got stuck in hotel stock swindles: one Fla. hotel owner sold 170 per cent of his resort . . . Farley Grangers dating Jerri Palmer, a lingerie designer . . . Billy Eckstine and his newest mgr., Ralph Harris, have split.

Backers of David Merrick's four B'way shows will get dividend checks this week . . . Tax sleuths are looking into the finances of Daddy Grace, religious leader . . . Charlie Chaplin Jr.'s dates are with actress Jacklyn Park; they met on the set of "High School Confidential."

EARL'S PEARLS:

A chorus girl is one who separates the boys from the men, and the men from the minks.

Hollywood — Bernice Block, who wrote "Dino, is barreling to get "Nothing But the Night, still before the cameras before Fox rolls "Compulsion."

This may devastate Pvt. Elvis Presley but his true: His manager, Col. Tom Parker, took Tommy Sands to lunch at Paramount commissary . . . Harry Belafonte beat a new ballad for his movie, "The End of the World, out of one of MGM's beat-up studio Steinways. It's title: "Get Me Out of Here!"

MERVYN LEROY is luring Stuart Whitman, the sensation of "Ten North Frederick" to play the younger J. Edgar Hoover in "The FBI Story" . . . Mitzi Green, on a comeback kick, signed to romp through the role originated by Roz Russell in "Wonderful Town" — at the Brussels Fair.

Greer Garson plunked a chunk (he means she invested some money) in a new waxery, Eagle Records . . . Ann Richards, Stan Kentons wife, enrolled in a dramatic class. Goal: an acting career.

PARTY PRATTLE: I rolled out the barrel for an engagement party in honor of my pal Richard Egan and his bride-to-be, Patricia Hardy, who'll be united in matrimony by his brother, the Rev. Willis Egan, June 7 at Star of the Sea Church in San Francisco.

Playful Bob Mitchum, one of my guests, pounced on Dolores Gargy hat and started auctioning it off but when Marion Davies topped Ann Millers bid of $120 by five bucks Dolores backed down with: "Mr. John would be HORRIFIED if I let it go that cheaply!"

NATALIE WOOD, nursing a strep throat, showed up on Bob Wagner's arm. This gal's got a tonsillotomy on tap any day now . . . Kathy Noland and Nick Adams arrived wearing what looked like twin engagement rings but explained they're friendship rings!"

Carleton Alspop reminisced about his friend, the late Ronald Colman, and the time little Judy Garland decided she wanted Ronnie for her birthday — so the sedate British actor allowed Alspop to wrap him up in a box, all ribbon'd & bow'd, and deliver him to Judy's door!

The Male Is Braver Than the Female Dept: Live TV is old stuff to Eddie Fisher but Debbie Reynolds, his wife, says, "I will never do it — its too frightening!"

Walter Winchell, no friend he of Tonights: Elsa Maxwell, claims she'll never do another guest spot on the Jack Paar show. Adds WW: "Her trip to the Brussels Fair is just a face-saving bit! . . . The Multiple Listing Caravan is becoming a familiar sight. Thirty or more real estate salesmen take the weekly tour to inspect properties just listed in Multiple. They estimate the value of the properties visited. The average is compared with the asking price. Thus, the broker with whom you listed your property has a measure of its market value. SCHEDULED FOR CONSTRUCTION at Nellie N. Coffman Junior High School are these modern administration and multi-purpose buildings. Expected to cost $280,435, the new junior high school units will be paid for by funds obtained in a $2,138,000 school expansion bond issue. Construction is expected to start this summer and end by Dec. 31, in time for the opening of the spring semester next February. The multi-purpose building features two music rooms, a stage, a cafeteria serving area and a fully equipped kitchen. Both buildings were designed by Frey and Chambers Architects.

Thermal Labor Camp Improvements Under Way with County Approval

Improvement of the five buildings at Thermal Airport leased by Ramon Soto for operation of a Foreign National Labor Camp to house farm laborers, is now under way, the Board of Supervisors were advised this week by Airport Director Joe Marriott.

Marriott said an agreement has been reached whereby Soto has obtained financing for the project, and the cost of the improvements is to be credited against his over-rent and future rent.

The federal and state authorities recently inspected the buildings and said the camp could not be reopened until extensive improvements have been made. Marriott said the airport commission has no funds available for the project and so the agreement with Soto was worked out because of the urgency due to the current harvest season. He asked for and received formal approval by the Board of Supervisors.

Only the minimum required improvements to make the buildings meet the latest federal and state regulations for operation of FNL camps will be undertaken at this time.

Syracuse Big-Leaguers

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — (UP) — Two former Syracuse University baseball players are major leaguers this year. Pitcher Walt Craddock performs for the Kansas City Athletics and Dutch Dotterer catches for the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Juvenile Hall Gets Additional Funds Due to High Population

An appropriation of $5,300 from the county's unappropriated reserve fund to Juvenile Hall for provisions and extra help was approved by the Board of Supervisors this week on recommendation by Administrative Officer Robert T. Andersen.

Probation Officer Bert R. Van Horn recently requested an additional $10,000 for provisions for the balance of this fiscal year and was given $7,000. Of the $5,300 appropriation, $4,100 is for provisions, bringing the total to $11,100.

Van Horn said that the present stock of food will be reduced beyond the point of good operational procedure by the end of the year. The additional needs were laid to an extremely high population at Juvenile Hall.

Plants From Peru

BERKELEY, Calif. — (UP) — An expedition from the University of California collected more than 10,000 plants in Peru for the university botanical garden here.

A new type of emergency tire has one and a quarter inches of solid rubber on a steel disc. It weighs only 30 pounds, takes minimum space and can be driven for 100 miles.

The Biscayne Two-Door Sedan with Body by Fisher. Every window of every Chevrolet is Safety Plate Glass.

NOTHING SO NEW—NOTHING SO NICE—NEAR THE PRICE!

THE '58 CHEVROLET is the one honest-to-goodness new car in the low-price field—the only one with beautiful new gull-wing styling. And you'll find it offers the year's most rewarding advances in ride and performance.

It stands out like a newly minted coin. Its clean-etched beauty—its flashing reflexes—give it a new look... a new feel.

Yet, with all its exclusive advances in styling and engineering, this new Chevrolet is priced surprisingly low. In the models most people buy it's actually the lowest priced of the low-priced three.* So any way you look at this new Chevy, you just can't make a more beautiful buy.

Every model gives you a choice of two all-new rides that are as smooth as cornsilk, an all-new Body by Fisher that's lower, longer and wider, an all-new Safety-Girder frame that's X-built for extra rigidity.

If you haven't yet driven a new Chevy, don't put off the pleasure any longer.

The only all-new car in the low-price field.

Flyers in Village On Weekend

It was a "happy landing" for the Aviation Breakfast Club of Southern California when they enjoyed a chuckwagon breakfast at the old rodeo grounds Saturday evening.

The ABC is a group of 250 who are interested in fostering flying clubs and private flying in Southern California. One of the oldest of the flying groups, it was organized 20 years ago. They meet once a month at various places and this time chose Palm Springs, headquartering at the Rossmore.

Dr. and Mrs. Phil Reames of Long Beach (he's retiring president), were in charge of the chuckwagon, which was prepared and served by the Johnny Boyle chuckwagon in charge of his wife Tani.

Barbecued chicken, western beans a la Boyle, tossed green salad, french bread, white cake with lemon icing and filling, were on the menu. Tables were decorated with miniature boot vases filled with flowers, and little covered wagons.

Sunday morning at the Rossmore, at an informal breakfast, the Club elected new officers, as follows: president, Dr. Donald Truitt; vice president, Frank Martz; secretary, Mary Truitt. All are from Long Beach.

Lucile and Maury Pavy are vacationing in Hawaii at the Hawaiian Village.

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, Kansas' seven-foot colossus of the courts, gave up college to go to school. Basketball school, that is. Because the big thing with Big Wilt right now is big money.

And he feels the only way he can hit the pro basketball jackpot is to spend a year preparing himself in the pro game.

He'll do this on a 160-game tour ala the Harlem Globetrotters, forming his own teams—one Negro and one white—for more than a year's play in South America and then across the United States.

"I need money," says the towering 21-year-old son of a $60-a-week handyman. "I was at a standstill the way the game was played at Kansas. I've got to develop the shooting and running part of my game. Then I can ask the pros for $25,000 a year."

WILT STILL stubbornly insists that all he received at Kansas, despite continued charges that he received as much as $30,000 for going there despite good offers from schools in every section of the country, was board, room, tuition and $15 a month for incidentals. The NCAA put him through a four-hour tape-recorded investigative session and when it was over one of his questioners said:

"It was nice talking to you, but I don't believe a word of it." Wilt gets a bit touchy when asked how come, then, that he can afford a new car.

"I've worked summers and traded up from a $700 car I bought my junior year in high school," he snaps.

CHAMBERLAIN has been a giant, and a well-coordinated one, ever since his high school days. As an example he high-jumped six feet, eight and three-quarter inches, ran the 440 and was a shot-putter. He also began weightlifting several years ago to fill himself out. He has.

The streamlined seven-footer weighs 245 pounds and wears but a 17-inch collar despite the 39-inch sleeves. All of this is carried around by size 14 shoes.

Looking back on his college career, Chamberlain asserts with quiet emphasis that he "didn't enjoy it."

"MY BIG PROBLEM was keeping my temper," he explains. "Colorado and Missouri were the chief tormentors but they weren't the only wrongdoers. Too many teams tried to incite me to fight or to foul out. They spent a lot of time to unnerv me."

Then, too, the slow-down tactics ruined the game in college, which badly needs a time limit on possession such as the pros have."

Chamberlain often was guarded by as many as three and sometimes four men but doesn't think this would happen in pro ball.

"College basketball, it seems," he mused, "has done all it can to hurt the tall man. It can't do much more unless it puts the basket on the floor."

Round Table to Pack 132 Pounds In Gold Cup Race

INGLEWOOD (UPI)—Round Table's surprise loss to Seaneen in the Californian at Hollywood Park last week didn't influence racing officials who Tuesday assigned the Kerr millionaire top weight of 132 pounds for the $162,100 Gold Cup.

There had been speculation that the loss might cause a change in plans to boost Round Table's assigned weight from 130, which he has been carrying in most races, to 132. But Racing Secretary John Malvius put Round Table at the top of the list in announcing weights for 58 nominees for the rich July 12 event.

Gallant Man, one of Round Table's two great 4-year-old rivals, was given an impost of 130 pounds. Bold Ruler, the other of the great trio of 4-year-olds, won't enter.

The next highest weight assignment was 122, for Haiuchikara, a Japanese horse which arrived Tuesday, while both Terrang and Seaneen followed with 118. Portershouse was assigned 117 and Social Climber, 116.

Scanlon Favored Over Rogers in TV Bout Tonight

CHICAGO (UPI)—Chicago's slugging Bobby Rogers was an underdog in his bid to halt the 27-fight winning streak of undefeated lightweight Irish Bobby Scanlon in tonight's television 10-rounder at the Chicago Stadium.

Rogers, a 22-year-old product of Chicago gyms, will be making his second start as a main-eventer, and Scanlon, a San Francisco college, his first as both assume roles in the International Boxing Club's "new faces" program.

Rogers has compiled a record of 15 victories in 22 fights, winning seven by knockouts. His best effort was also his most recent—a 10-round decision over Ernie (Sonny Boy) Williams April 23 in Miami, Fla.

Scanlon, also 22, has picked up a huge following in San Francisco where he added a TKO over former lightweight champ Bud Smith and a 10-round decision over another one-time titleholder, Lauro Salas, to his impressive string.

In his most recent outing, Scanlon knocked out Luke Easter in eight rounds April 3.

Both Scanlon and Rogers are gunning for a crack at Carlos Ortiz, another undefeated lightweight contender. One of Ortiz' victories came over Rogers, who dropped a 10-round decision to the flashy Mexican.

Fans Beginning To Pour Into Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Indianapolis tonight begins its official role as host to a quarter-million persons, mostly 500-mile race fans, with a restrained version of New Orleans' Mardi Gras.

The 500-mile event dates back to 1911 at Indianapolis Motor Speedway, but it was not until two years ago Indianapolis began to blossom with municipally sponsored dances, parades and other social appendages to the race itself on May 30.

Spokesmen for this second annual "500" festival say they wish to avoid what they diagnose as Louisville's "trouble" with its Derby festival—too many events. But they hope to produce something "comparable to the Mardi Gras or Pasadena's Tournament of Roses."

Tonight's opening event is a formal ball at the Indiana Roof. Thursday's crowded day begins with a mayor's breakfast in the Claypool Hotel at which former race winners are honor guests.

A Mardi Gras touch to the breakfast is importation of two New Orleans bartenders to serve gin fizzes, an unheard-of item on the normal Hoosier breakfast.

The parade with its 33 floats, 33 bands and 33 marching units winds through the downtown area beginning at 7:30 p. m. Thursday. The number is a reminder that 33 drivers start in the Friday race.

An assurance that all visitors will find a room at reasonable prices came from Joseph. Cripe who heads the Indianapolis Convention Bureau. He said rooms start at $5 per person, but these are mainly in private homes.

Dodgers, Braves To Aid Kiwanis Children's Fund

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Proceeds from a game here July 11 between the Los Angeles Dodgers and Milwaukee Braves will go to Kiwanis Crippled Children Foundation.

Newt Small, foundation president, said Tuesday Walter O'Malley had agreed to provide the foundation with 100,000 tickets for the charity game, which formerly was between the Hollywood Stars and an all-star PCL team.

TRAINING PLANS

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UPI)—Heavyweight Pete Rademacher will train at Greenwood Lake, N. Y., for his July fight at Los Angeles with Zora Foley of Chandler, Ariz.

Giants' Lead Dwindles in NL Flag Race

Milwaukee Trips Cards But Loses Its Series Pennant

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

Some scoundrel walked right up and stole Milwaukee's 1957 world championship flag Tuesday night but the embarrassed Braves are making it quite clear no one is going to steal the 1958 pennant from them.

The theft of the Braves' flag was noticed shortly after Joe Adcock's pinch two-run homer in the ninth inning gave the world champs a 3-2 victory over the Cardinals and boosted them within a game of first place.

Whoever took the pennant unloosened the rope attaching it to the pole in left field, calmly lowered baseball's cherished banner of supremacy and fled into the night.

But if the Braves thought they were robbed, how do you think the Cardinals felt?

SAM JONES of the Cards was coasting along with a two-hit, 2-0 lead until the ninth when Eddie Mathews opened with a single and Wes Covington was hit with a pitch. Jones got the next two men on forceouts and although a run scored, he was only one out away from victory.

Adcock then came off the bench to hit for Bill Bruton and he slammed Jones' second pitch into the left-center field bleachers.

Adcock's homer enabled southpaw Warren Spahn to record his seventh victory against a single loss. Spahn yielded eight hits, including a homer by Curt Flood.

Rip Repulski's three-run homer in the first inning powered the Phillies to a 5-1 triumph over the first-place Giants. Repulski socked his circuit off loser Stu Miller, who failed to survive the first inning. Jack Sanford was touched for 10 hits but he went the distance to earn his fourth victory. It was only the fifth defeat for the Giants in their last 20 games.

FRANK THOMAS rapped out three hits and Ronnie Kline posted his sixth victory as the Pirates tripped the last-place Dodgers, 5-3.

Successive doubles by Dick Groat, Ted Kluszewski and Thomas produced the Pirates' first two runs in the fourth and they added three more in the fifth on Bill Virdon's triple, a wild pitch, Bob Skinner's homer, Groat's triple and a single by Thomas. Don Drysdale, who was charged with Pittsburgh's first four runs, suffered his eighth defeat.

Don Hoak's 10th inning single with the bases loaded off reliever Don Elston paced Cincinnati to a 4-3 win over Chicago.

Over in the American League, the Kansas City Athletics hopped all over Bob Tirley to beat the first-place New York Yankees, 7-3.

EARLY WYNN needed a helping hand from Gerry Staley in the ninth inning but he was credited with his fourth straight victory and fifth of the year as the White Sox topped the Senators, 7-3.

Despite Ted Williams' sixth homer of the season, the Detroit Tigers held on for a 3-2 win over the Boston Red Sox. Fast-baller Paul Foytack scored his fourth victory although Vito Valentini nailed down the final out of the game when he struck out Gene Stephens with runners on second and third.

The Cleveland Indians handed the Baltimore Orioles their sixth straight defeat, 7-6, in 10 innings.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves pitching strength is keeping most of their relief pitchers leaning against the bull pen fence.

As of Monday, the Braves' starting hurlers had pitched 15 complete games and gone at least seven innings in 24 out of 35 games. Nine of the games needed only one relief pitcher, and since May 13, three pitchers have been used in one game only once in 13 games.

It's this type of balance that makes most observers feel that over a 154-game stretch, it will be the Braves that finish on top. The consensus is that while other mound staffs will falter under doubleheaders and hot weather, the Braves will be able to maintain a steady level of good pitching.

With most of the starters going seven innings or more, the bulk of the relief work has gone to Don McMahon, who has a 1.13 earned run average in 16 innings.

Littlefield, obtained from the Cubs at the start of the season, has been in only three games for a total of six innings.

Johnson also has been in three games, but only 5 1-3 innings.

To Meet Thacher Thursday

Palm Springs High School Boys' tennis team will meet Thacher High at Thacher Thursday in the state finals for the California Interscholastic Federation Small Schools Championship following their 16-12 victory over San Marino High on the local courts Tuesday in the semi-finals.

The victory was a welcome one for Coach Seamus Nunan's team. Last year San Marino defeated the Tribe netters in the CIF finals.

PLAYING ONE SET against each of their opponents in Round Robin singles play, Denny Hammond won 2 and lost 2 for two points; Eris Williams also split with the visiting San Marino opponents; Richard Reakes won three matches to score three for Palm Springs. Roger Burton also took three points.

Frank Ripley and Fred Grimm teamed in the doubles to win both of their two-set matches, counting three points each to add six to the local total.

IN THE SECOND doubles, Joe Henderson Jr. and Dick McFarland ran into trouble against their San Marino opponents and lost both sets.

Thacher is champion of the Tri Valley League and boasts a strong team.

After winning the Riverside County League tennis title for four years in a row, Coach Nunan is hopeful his charges can add a state title this year.

Head to Resume Tennis Activities On June 1, Word

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Doctors at the UCLA Medical Center told Australian tennis star Lew Hoad today that he should be able to resume tournament play June 1, despite illness which caused him to interrupt his 100-match series with Pancho Gonzalez.

The center said that Hoad had been suffering from "right sciatic neuritis," but that his condition could be corrected with therapy treatment.

Blythe Constable Exonerated by Company Which Made Charge; Praised by Attorneys

Constable Lee Hickey of the Palo Verde Judicial District was completely exonerated of charges recently made against him by the National Business Councilors of Los Angeles in a letter from that organization received by the Board of Supervisors this week.

The Los Angeles firm charged in a letter to the supervisors two weeks ago that Hickey had failed to serve an attachment promptly with the result that the account was not collected because the man on whom the papers were to be served had gone on vacation.

circumstances surrounding the service of papers on Glenn G. Firof, defendant," wrote C. A. McCormick of the Los Angeles firm, "it appears we are in error in accusing Constable Hickey of not performing his duties as he should. He saved us costs, by not serving the attachment as requested in the instructions.

"This we did not know until further investigation and we were more than likely hasty in making our accusations. There is no question in my mind at this time that Constable Hickey acted in good faith and for our best interests."

ELLIOTT N. YEARSLEY, Blythe attorney, told the supervisors that Hickey called the U. S. Gypsum plant in Midland the same morning he received the papers (March 25) and was told that Firof, an employee there, was indebted to the company and had no money due him at the time. March 27, Hickey dropped in at the plant in Midland on other business and was told that Firof's pay day would be the 30th but that he was still indebted and would get no pay March 30.

"An attachment at that time would have accomplished nothing more than increasing the costs to the collection agency and liability of Firof, all without any avail," said Yearsley. "Hickey went to the plant again April 29, just before Firof's next pay day, and served the papers on U. S. Gypsum. Then he learned that Firof had been released for vacation." The papers were returned to the collection agency by U. S. Gypsum marked, "no salary due, defendant on vacation."

"CONSTABLE HICKEY has for many years been respected in the Palo Verde Valley as a conscientious peace officer," declared Yearsley. "The collection agency not only owes him a letter of apology, but also a word of thanks for a job which the constable performed to the very best of his ability. I write this letter as a friend and not with any thought of compensation."

Supervisors File Suggestions On Sales Tax Plan

A recommendation by the Riverside County Farm Bureau that unless the cities in the county agree to carry on the present Bradley-Burns sales tax program without lessening the ten per cent payment to the county of the sales tax collected within the cities, the entire program should be abandoned, was received this week by the Board of Supervisors and filed without comment.

The letter presenting the recommendation was received by the supervisors from Albert Ceas, Farm Bureau president, and confirmed the statement made to the board two weeks ago by Bryant Chandler, executive secretary.

THE SALES TAX issue was stirred up recently by the City of Corona's announcement that it will withdraw from the agreement unless the City of Palm Springs agrees to join the other cities in the ten per cent contribution. Withdrawal of any city from the agreement will automatically dissolve the entire contract.

Also filed by the supervisors was a notice from the Hemet City Council declaring its satisfaction with the tax program as it is now operated in this county and urging that no changes be made in the present arrangement.

"STATISTICS FURNISHED by the Board of Equalization bear out predictions made prior to adoption of the present program that the City of Palm Springs, due to unique factors appertaining to that city alone in the county, could not substantially benefit from collection by the state of taxes within the city, said the Hemet councilman.

talks. Babbage spent the entire day in Palm Springs visiting workers and voters in their places of business. The Republican candidate has possibly aroused more interest in the election of the representative to Congress than any race in recent years. (Desert Sun Photo).

Santa Monica Becomes Manager of Sales Market

Bob Barr, former Santa Monica market executive, is the new manager of the Palm Springs Sales Market, at 441 South Palm Canyon Drive, Sales officials announced today.

Barr, 27, was manager of the Tip Top Foods store in Santa Monica for three years and was associated with the Los Angeles Thriftmart chain for seven years. A native of Sioux Falls, S. D., the young market executive started his career in the grocery business as a "box boy," carrying packages for customers, at the age of 16.

He moved to California in 1944, settling in West Los Angeles. Now planning to establish permanent residence in Palm Springs, Barr is seeking a home for his family, which includes his wife, Sylvia, and six-year-old daughter, Linda.

BOB BARR

It's Official, Population Now Set at 12,443

Palm Springs special census, taken in March of this year, has been certified by the Bureau of Census at 12,443.

This increased Palm Springs population by 218 persons, and is better by 96 than the first report for this year which tallied 12,345.

According to City Manager Robert W. Peterson, the census was closely checked by the census supervisor and correctly reflects the population of Palm Springs, but he added that an error was probably made in the special census in 1956 when there was apparently a "sloppy" census taken and it was too high.

Peterson added that the last count, although not consistent with statistics from schools, water companies and power companies, is more accurate to "a good growth trend."

Michigan has 36,350 miles of fishing streams.

Plans Started For Fireworks Show on July 4

Preparations are under way today for presentation of the fifth annual Inter-School Club Fourth of July fireworks show at the Palm Springs Polo Grounds.

Show chairman Tom Hayes, of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, said the big Independence Day production is sponsored by the service clubs of Palm Springs and Cathedral City.

Hayes said that all Coachella Valley residents are invited to view the display, which, he said, is one of the few shows of its kind in the nation that is open to the public without charge.

Summer School Credits

AMHERST, Mass. — (UP) — Students at the University of Massachusetts will be able to finish college in less than four years for the first time starting this summer. The university is offering courses representing all major interests in two five-week summer terms for students now enrolled in a four-year school. By taking courses during both terms, a student can earn almost the equivalent of a full semester's work.

The California Highway Patrol made 20.5 per cent more arrests for hazardous traffic violations in 1957 — a total of 765,236 — than in the previous year.

Ill Treatment of Patient At County Hospital Denied

Riverside County's new hospital administrator, Fred K. Holbrook, told the Board of Supervisors this week that he does not believe Mrs. Marjorie Donnelly of Desert Hot Springs has any valid complaint as to the manner in which her late husband, C. H. Donnelly, was treated at the county's General Hospital in Arlington.

A complaint filed with the Board of Supervisors by Mrs. Donnelly on May 5 was referred to the administrator, who assumed his new position April 30, for investigation.

"As far as I can determine I do not feel that this patient was neglected or did not receive the best of treatment for his medical needs," Holbrook told the supervisors. "I am making this an objective report, as I am mainly concerned with the future treatment which we will render our patients. Within my own mind I feel satisfied that we provided this patient with the best of medical care."

The administrator's report was filed.
